20 Best Pancakes in America

by Jennifer M. Wood | March 18, 2014

A decadent collection of the best pancakes this country has to offer.

Our Favorite Flapjacks

Whether you prefer to call them hotcakes, griddlecakes, or flapjacks, there's one simple fact we can all agree on: pancakes are delicious. And while we've got no problem with those purists who prefer a simple buttermilk cake topped with butter and maple syrup, we're also regularly intrigued by more elaborate pancake concoctions. Fortunately, there are dozens of chefs around the country who have got plenty to offer on that latter account. From sugar-dusted to savory takes, here are 20 of our favorite coast-to-coast pancake dishes.

Location: New York, NY

If you've ever seen Chris Santos judge an episode of Chopped and wondered what kind of food the chef himself cooks up in his own kitchen, here's your answer: Oreo Cookie Pancakes. Which are a new addition to the menu at his popular downtown Manhattan eatery—and quickly turning customers into loyalists.
