Chris Santos Vibrant Nightlife and Quality Food

Perfecting the art of a vibrant nightlife is hard enough but coupling it with quality food is relatively unheard of in New York. Vegas lives on perfecting this concept but in NY there are only a couple notable exceptions. The majority of nightlife patrons like to eat and play in separate spaces.

Of course the trend towards the 'gastropub' and 'resto-club' is increasing as operators see the revenue potential. The ability to serve brunch at 11am and close out bottle service at 4am is a dream come true. But Chris Santos makes this dream look easy.

Food Network fans know Chris as one of the judges on the popular show Chopped but New Yorkers know him for his packed eateries Beauty & Essex and Stanton Social. Here is our recent interview with Chris to get the full lowdown on his vision.
