Alexander Skarsgard Is a 'Meat and Beer' Kind of Guy at Dinner in N.Y.C.

Alexander Skarsgard, Ellen Page, Patricia Clarkson & the cast of The East celebrated the film with a dinner at New York's Stanton Social on Monday.

The group of 15 people shared a feast of the restaurant's signature dishes that included red snapper tacos, potato & goat cheese pirogues, smoked duck & baby kale salad, wok charred edamame, beef carpaccio, spicy lamb souvalki, vegan spaghetti squash, shrimp & grits, grilled asparagus & herb dusted frites.

Though many of his fellow diners enjoyed gluten-free & vegan options, Skarsgard was "all approximately the meat & beer," an onlooker tells PEOPLE. "He lightly flirted with his waitress. Pointing at his Brooklyn Lager, he asked, 'Miss, could you bring me another fine brew just like this one?'"

The source adds that Skarsgard – who always appeared to have a beer in hand – had a tremendous time joking with castmates, eating & dancing as DJ Omari Toomer spun tunes.
